Trill Souolutionary's vision and forward-thinking artistic capacity go further than most that are of similar standing in the industry. His work ethic is incomparable and unstoppable. While considered a rapper, his versatility for many styles is endless as he refuses to conform to the status quo, coming through with a tried, tested, and approved style of his own that deserves its place in the ever-evolving hip-hop industry. As he continues pushing himself and stretching his imagination, he hopes to continue making more music that is not only unique but equally accessible by borrowing from deeply relatable everyday life experiences and performing in a way that his listeners are able to identify with.

He is currently making waves with his latest jam, "Decisions"- a raw, on-the-spot, and expertly delivered banger with an insane beat that provides a solid backdrop to attractively complement Trill's scene-stealing flows.

While his bars are instantaneous and on the spot, he still delivers some nimble and thought-provoking lyrics that showcase his rise from the depths of trenches to the heights of stardom, riding this beat the same way he rides his riches.

And let's talk about that sick beat, man. It has been built around the pounding 808 with some trap percussion from the signature hi-hats, the heavy bass that rattles the floor, and snares to create a quality sound that works well with Trill's masterful imagination.

When we say freestyle rap music, then performances like "Decisions" are what we refer to. This is the mark of an emcee riding a wave of his own and one that seriously needs attention because he has that hunger in him to succeed where others failed!

A performance like this is really what distinguishes rappers, as Trill proves that he is much more than just a rapper; he is an artist capable of delivering in whatever capacity.
